20 Years of the Express Car Wash A Story from the Leaders that Started it All

It's convenient, fast, and affordable. It's a fun experience and it's designed for today's generation. The customer is anybody with a car in a time strapped society and well suited to the 21st century rhythm of "I have 100 things to do and only 5 minutes to get my car washed."

The Beginning of Express

20 years ago Ben Alford, owner of Benny's Car Wash, had an idea. Having been in the business for a while, he knew car owners wanted a clean car but the big obstacle was time (and desire) to wash their own vehicle top-to-bottom and bumper-to-bumper. From an operator standpoint, staffing wash tough and employee turnover was high. So with a few industry colleagues, Mr. Alford set out to solve these challenges.

The Car Wash Model That Could

While the history of commercial car washing in the USA dates back to the early 1900's, a few major milestones have attributed to driving the industry to another level. In 1946, 75 years ago, the semi-automatic car wash was introduced. In 2001, the express wash—as we know it today—made its debut.

The Express Car Wash

Free vacuums for customers to use at their convenience, attendant-free pay stations, automated tunnel equipment, cutting edge technology and a consistently clean, dry and shiny car. Twenty years of innovation and timeless relevance.
